Don —

I can't believe you actually reserved me a whole page — Boy, wait til I get through with you! Well, I just can't believe we won't be in choir together next year. It just won't be the same. I mean, after five years — Good. Grief!!! — You have made all my years in choir extra special memories to me. I'll never forget my "brother." I'm quite sure of that. Don, I just wish I could tell you how much you've meant to me through these years. I'll never forget Mr. Cowan, choir trips, All State, and everything else.

Always remember who gave you the wonderful talents you have. I could never tire of listening to you sing. You have an exceptional ability for making other people smile (of course usually they're laughing at you — just kidding). I'm sure you could do anything you put your mind to. "You're the Greatest"

I pray the Lord will keep my wonderful brother ever safe & happy.

Keep Smiling, Don, and show that ole WLU just what you can do! (Then again!!)

Keep singing, Don, and

Many students seldom see the brighter side of school, thinking only of the scholastic requirements. While WFHS maintains high academic standards above all else, there are numerous extracurricular activities which do more than broaden our educational experiences. These activities make our school days, days of pleasure by creating an enjoyable atmosphere in which to work. Recognizing these many organizations and activities, we select The Brighter Side of School Life as the theme of the 1964 Coyote.

As our world becomes more complex, the challenge left to young people increases. However, the nature of youth is such that each generation welcomes the challenge and responds to it with gladness.

It is the temperament of young people to be glad even in the midst of complexities, for youth is a time of fun, a season of blue skies and high hopes for a bright future. It is a time of preparation, a chance for study and for an increase in knowledge of the mysteries of the world. Most of all, youth is a time of experiences and decisions that largely determine the course of adult life.

Ralph Waldo Emerson wrote, "When Duty whispers low, 'Thou must,' the youth replies, 'I can.'" It is with pride that the staff dedicates the 1964 Coyote to young people around the world who are experiencing these joys and challenges.

The Wichita Falls High School carries on extensive co-curricular and extra-curricular activity programs designed to brighten and enhance the student's school life. Studies reveal that there is a definite relationship between success and happiness in school and participation and leadership in school clubs, activities, and athletics.

You, as a student, should read this annual slowly and with understanding so that you may measure your own contribution to the general welfare of yourself and your school.

Office

Numerous activities planned for the entire school must be carefully supervised and coordinated. Hours of planning and double-checking are spent past the regular school day by the office personnel so that confusion can be held to a minimum. The cooperation of the office staff has greatly aided school organizations and their activities. The indefatigable spirit displayed by the principal, deans, and secretaries adds much to the brighter side of school.

English

One method by which one may expand his understanding of our culture is to study the basic concepts underlying our life. An excellent way to achieve this goal is to study the literary works of both ancient and contemporary writers in order to view their expressions of life. Similarly, one develops mental acumen by learning to express himself and his ideas clearly and concisely. By means of a well-rounded four-year program of literature and grammar, the Department of English of Wichita Falls High School seeks to instill and develop these abilities in its students.

The Department of English is also responsible for noting and preserving all achievements and changes in Coyote land through its three news media: The Coyote, The Coyote News, and Teen Times.

Library

The students of WFHS have the opportunity to further their knowledge of great literary works and current events through the extensive volumes of books and magazines in the Snider Library. For one looking for the lighter side of learning, there are numerous stories of fiction, books on social activities, and many others that have been placed in the library for everyone's entertainment and enjoyment. Much of the pleasantness of the atmosphere in Snider Library is made possible by the helpful attitude and limitless patience of Miss Natalie Gorin and Mrs. Noel W. Andrews, the school librarians.

The new audio-visual aids made available this year add interest and color to the courses of chemistry and physics. The study of science is, to many students, one of the brighter sides of school life.

Mathematics

The advancing technology of today requires a substantial knowledge of mathematics. The courses offered by the Department of Mathematics at WFHS provide ample opportunity for each student to receive such knowledge. In addition to the basic courses—related mathematics, plane geometry, and algebra—this department offers courses in trigonometry, solid geometry, analytical geometry, and calculus. Instruction is also offered in side rule and number sense. During the past few years the Department of Mathematics has inspired a growing number of students to seek further study in the field of numbers.

Social Studies

A primary aim of the Department of Social Studies is to help each student adjust himself to his world by a better understanding of the past and of the events of today. Since history is being made each day and our methods of government are being improved, students are challenged to keep up with the happenings.

Even the newest textbooks are supplemented by The American Observer to give up-to-date political information. Maps, charts, and films provide a clearer understanding of historical places and events. Daily newspapers are used to give news as it happens to keep students aware of the events around them. This department realizes that to understand, one must first be kept informed.

Language

The increased contact among the peoples of the world has placed an added importance upon the study of foreign languages. The Department of Languages at WFHS provides excellent opportunities for this study. Courses are offered in French, German, Latin, and Spanish. Students in these classes gain a working knowledge of their chosen language and a thorough understanding of the culture and history of the people with which it is associated. The study of the vocabulary and grammar of these languages also aids students in their study of English. Knowledge and skills gained in the study of foreign languages add greatly to the ability of the student to handle the complex problems of today.

Home Economics

Various co-curricular activities are held throughout the school year in connection with the Department of Home Economics. For teas and receptions held in the Home Economics living room, the students in the cooking department prepare and serve refreshments. Such occasions are not only enjoyed by all concerned, but also give invaluable experience that aids the students.

Commercial

To prepare the youth of today for meeting the competitive world of business, WFHS offers various commercial courses to interested students. For work as secretary, bookkeeper, or receptionist, students are offered courses in typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and office practice. For a general knowledge in business and the managing of finances, economics and commercial law are offered. Mechanical drawing and shop provide a basic training for careers in engineering, architecture, and drafting.

Since the demand for highly trained personnel is greater today than ever before, the youth of WFHS have a deep feeling of gratitude for the teachers who have devoted their lives to commercial education that the "Coyotes" may also be on the winning team in the competitive world of business.

Speech

Adeptness in self-expression is an art that enables one to increase his confidence and to project his ideas clearly and forcefully. The WFHS Department of Speech, through its diversified and comprehensive program, seeks to reach all the students in our school. One major facet in our speech program is the National Forensic League, composed of advanced students in debate, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and prose poetry reading. The National Thespian Society is composed of those students interested in drama. These students first become members of Amateur Guild and then advance to the Thespians. Courses in radio, television, and stagecraft are also available.

Music

Since music provides enjoyment for both the performer and the listener, the Department of Music of WFHS is important for the entertainment it gives to the student body as well as the musical training it affords the members of the choirs, band, and orchestra. The choirs provide lovely, inspiring music throughout the year. The orchestra presents classical and popular works in special assemblies. In addition to its fine concert work, the band adds a touch of excitement to pep rallies and football games. The Department of Music wins many honors for our school in various music contests.

Whether for later work in the commercial field or for the private enjoyment of the student, the skilled instruction and help given by Miss Mattye Mae Haynie and Miss Joyce P. Samuels are of great value to the students of WFHS. Besides developing artistic skills in oil painting, ceramics, and charcoal pictures, the students are given the opportunity of expressing the brighter side of life in pictures.

NDCC

It has often been said that discipline and proper respect for authority are two of the major qualities that every young man must develop in order to succeed in our society. The National Defense Cadet Corps, under the guidance of Major Bruce R. Knowlton, attempts to make these qualities an integral part of every student taking NDCC training and thereby increase the number of responsible, well-disciplined young men.

Every time I do this I get depressed, but my curiosity overwhelmed me.

Health

One of the brightest spots of the school day in the lives of many students is health class. Here the social manners, proper grooming, and good health so necessary to enjoyable living are instilled by inspired and dedicated teachers. Class discussions and the use of audio-visual aids are vital parts of this useful course for freshmen and sophomores.

Variety Plus

Variety Plus 1964 was, in part, a study in contrast. It went from the hustle, bustle of political life with Colonel Enden Butts of Texas, to those singing floormops, those moaning hounds from London, England, The Beagles. The KLBJ roving reporters—Sally, Karen, and Preston—carried on exclusive interviews with Colonel Butts in New Orleans, in a small Irish village, and at the annual Buttsburg County Fair. The four emcees — Karen Monaghan, Sally Pridgen, Preston Ribnick, and Charles Butts—agree with Mr. Prewitt that Variety Plus 1964 was the most glamorous and exciting Variety Plus in the history of the Coyote Band.

The Old

In 1926 a bronze statue of "The Appeal of the Great Spirit" was presented to the Wichita Falls Junior College, which was housed along with the high school in our present building. The presentation was made by Mr. and Mrs. Saul Lebenson. The original statue, of which this one is a replica, stands in front of the Library of Boston, Massachusetts. The statue, made of the finest American bronze, measures three feet and four inches high. From its stand of Texas Red Granite the "Indian" guarded the halls of W.F.H.S. for thirty-eight years before its presentation to Mid-western University.

The Senior Class of 1963, with the direction of Bobby Harbison, president, secured the new bronze "Coyote" statue. The cast was made by the Potter Art Metal Studio of Dallas, Texas, with Mr. H. C. Potter as artist. On January 3, 1964, Harbison and several other seniors of 1963 presented the "Coyote" to the school.

Dear Don

Well, we're going to graduate, and it is a little sad I guess. We known each other a long time and I can truly say I've enjoyed every bit of it. I hope that we will see more of each other in the same way and through our years here in Sunny side I've gotten mad at you a lot, but I was just cutting up. you have truly been a big brother to me at times. I will always remember you, and hope you will me to. Good luck in the future and stay with music

God Bless you

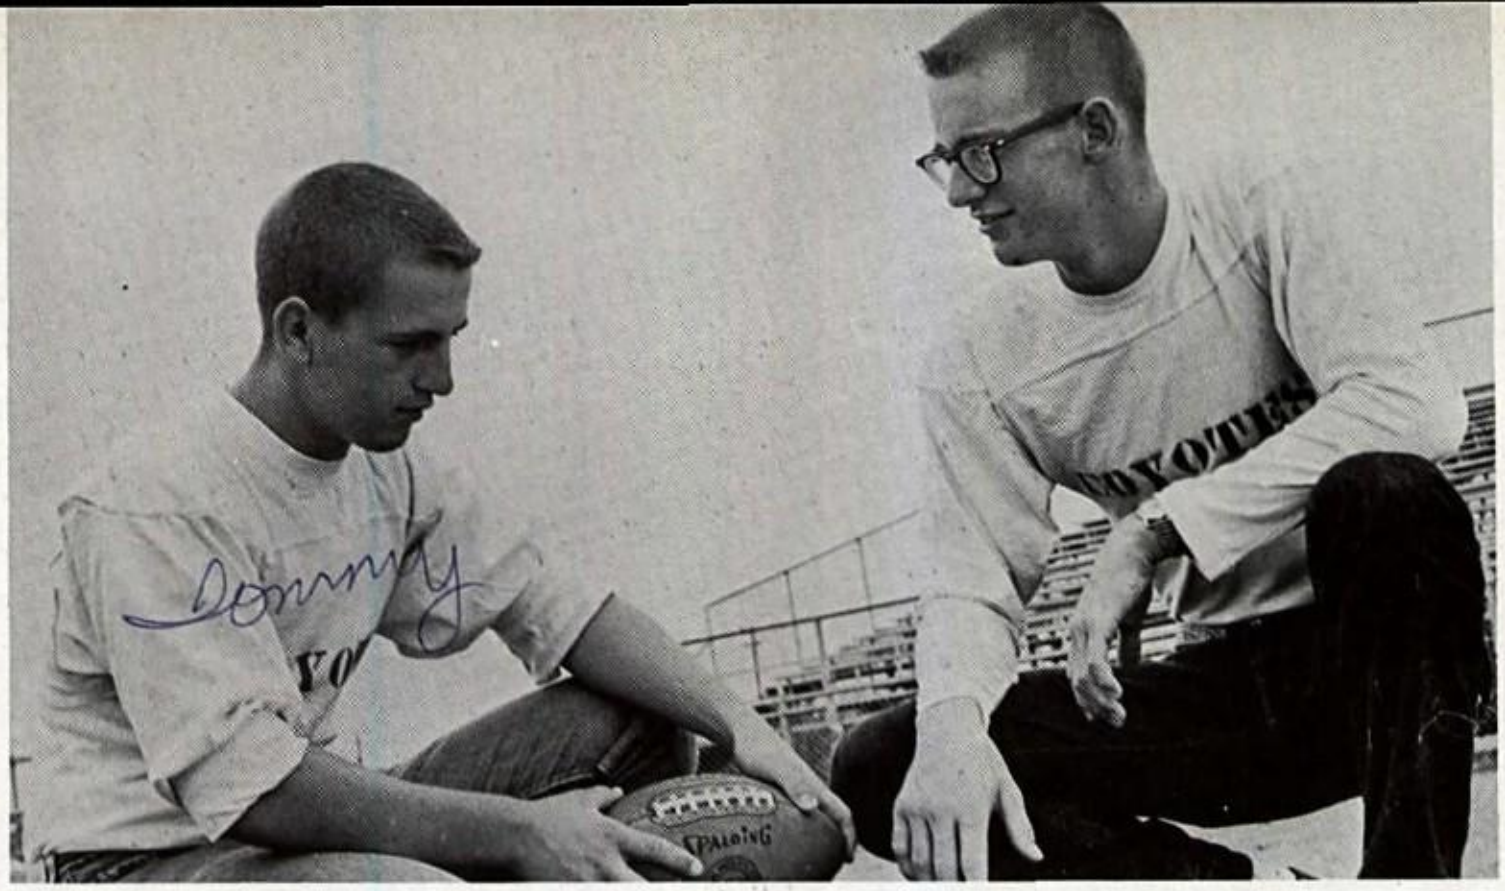
1963 Coyotes

Coaches: HUNTER KIRKPATRICK, GLEN JOHNSON, and DONNELL CROSSLIN.

The members of the Coyote football team will forever be indebted to Coaches Kirkpatrick, Johnson, and Crosslin for inspirational guidance and leadership during the 1963 football season.

The 1963 Wichita Falls Coyote football team compiled an enviable 7-2-1 record. The Coyotes were a fine but puzzling team. Their play ranged from brilliance to occasional mediocrity. With unlimited potential, they were a great football team at Irving, a poor one at Haltom City, and a good, but at times lax one at Grand Prairie. However, we cannot judge the team by what might have happened with a little more luck; we can only judge it by what did happen. The Coyotes defeated seven tough football teams, won second place in district 4-4A, and earned the respect of all their opponents.



TOMMY DEAN LARRY FLOURNOY

Coyote managers Tommy Dean and Larry Flournoy worked many long hours to help make the 1963 season a successful one.

Captain Ted Stuart, along with co-captains Joe Fowler, Jimmy Powers, and John Runge, showed fine leadership qualities throughout the 1963 season. Their example served as an inspiration to each of the members of the team.

Coyotes 27 Pampa 6

On September 13 the Coyotes took on their first opponent of the 1963 football season. The Pampa Harvesters were ready for the Coyotes, and for three long quarters held them to a 7-6 game. Then Don Hanvey broke the game open with a 61-yard punt return. Mike McBride scored three plays later. The Coyotes soon regained possession of the ball and sent McBride 65 yards for his second touchdown. The final Coyote score was set up by a pass from Pat Alexander to John Runge. Alexander then scored the last touchdown of the night.

Mike McBride rambles against Pampa.

Coyotes 13 Sandies 0

In their second outing the Coyotes faced a traditional rival, Amarillo. This was truly the finest hour of the Coyote defense. It held the Sandies to six first downs and a mere 79 yards rushing. The Coyotes scored twice, both times on short blasts by Jim Powers; but it was fine defensive play that set up the scores. In some instances the Coyote offense looked good, but it proved too inconsistent to be oustanding. As the game ended, the Coyotes were on the Amarillo 10-yard line as a result of a 55-yard punt return by Don Hanvey.

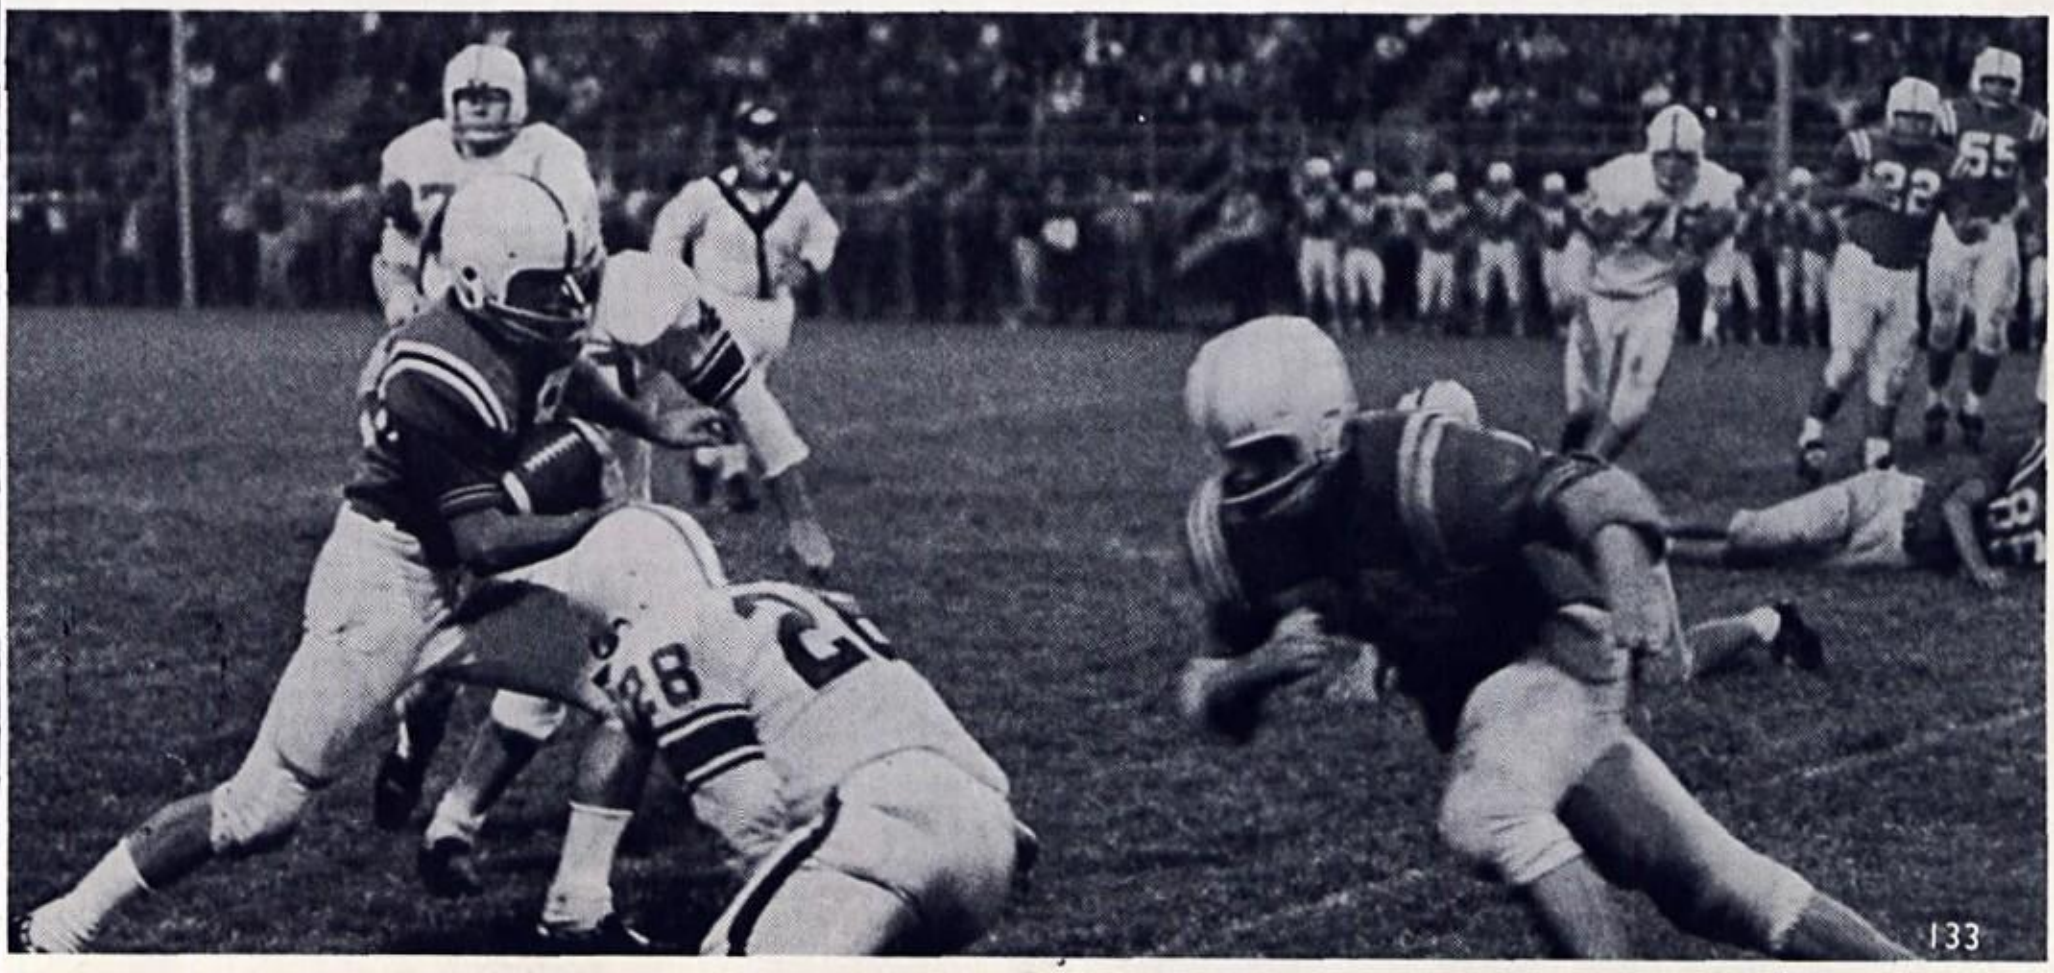
Coyotes 20 Odessa 6

Odessa was the third Coyote victim. The first half of the game, the Coyote offense could be described only as great; but, as in the past, it was a defensive play that gave the Coyotes the ball on the Broncho 45-yard line. From that point, Jim Powers made a spectacular run of 55 yards. He took the ball going left, used his interference perfectly, and galloped across the goal line. After the Coyotes kicked off, the defense held; and Odessa punted. The Coyotes took the ball and behind the blocking of Joe Fowler, Wade King, Sam Bashara, and David Cargill, rolled over the Bronchos for a second score. Pat Alexander tallied the touchdown. The second half belonged entirely to the Bronchos with the exception of a beautiful runback of an intercepted pass by John Runge for six points.



Coyotes 8 Big Spring 12

THE LESS SAID ABOUT THIS GAME THE BETTER!! Riding a three-game winning streak, the Coyotes traveled to Big Spring to take on the Steers. The Coyotes scored first on a short run by Jimmy Powers and took the lead 8-0, but this was the only time they looked really good. In the second half the Steers rallied and scored two touchdowns to hand the Coyotes a humiliating 12-8 upset.

Coyotes 6 Lawton 6

In one of the toughest games of the season, the Pack battled the Lawton Wolverines in Lawton. Lawton's Gene Cagle ran the opening kickoff back to the Coyotes' fourteen yard line and scored three plays later. Lawton continued to dominate the first half, but it was a different story in the final two quarters. Mike McBride put on one of the greatest aerial shows in Coyote history. He completed 14 of 16 passes, most of them to lanky end Jack Pennington. Jimmy Powers, the sparkplug of the Coyote running game throughout the second half, finally scored on a one-yard dive over guard Willie McKee. However, Jerry Byas' extra point attempt was partially blocked, and Lawton escaped with a 6-6 tie.

Coyotes 25 Rebels 13

Following the Lawton game the Coyotes had an open date before beginning district play. The Coyotes' first district foe was Richland Hills. The Rebels had a strong ground attack, but the tough Coyote defense rose to the occasion and managed to contain the Rebel offense. Meanwhile, Fullback Jimmy Powers was having a field day as he ran for three touchdowns behind the fine blocking of the Coyote forward wall. The Coyotes started district competition "on the right foot" by downing Richland Hills 25-13.

Coyotes 28 Irving 22

School spirit rose to a fever pitch as the Coyotes sought revenge over arch-rival Irving for the 0-6 defeat suffered at their hands in 1962. The Coyotes journeyed to Irving with but one thought in mind—annihilate the Tigers! The Pack was so keyed up that Irving was able to jump to an early 14-0 lead via Coyote miscues. However, the inspired Coyotes were not to be denied this victory. Devastating blocking by the forward wall, hard running by the Coyote backs, and a sharp passing attack brought the Coyotes to a 14-14 tie at halftime. In the second half Wichita Falls continued to roll over the Tigers, scoring twice. One tally came on a beautiful pass and run play from Mike McBride to end Jerry Phillips. With the exception of the opening period, the defense looked tremendous also. Led by Larry Cleveland, Mike Jenkins, Jim McGrath, and All-District guard Ted Stuart, the Coyotes held Irving to only one more touchdown that came on a long, beautifully executed pass. Irving left Tiger Stadium a thoroughly beaten team.

Coyotes 27 Arlington 12

The Coyotes, still a little cocky from their revengeful defeat of Irving, met the Arlington Colts in what proved to be their last home game. Mike McBride scored the first time the Coyotes got their hands on the ball from 29 yards out. The second tally came as a result of great line play and fine running by McBride and Pat Alexander. With six seconds remaining in the first half, Mike McBroom made a diving catch in the end zone; and the Coyotes had a commanding 21-0 halftime lead. However, the second half was a different story. Arlington, using fine passing, scored twice and held the Coyotes to only one more score, which came in the last minute of play.

Coyotes 14 Haltom 6

In the fourth district game of the season, the Coyotes ran into a bunch of hard-hitting, fired-up Buffaloes. Pat Alexander scored first on a five-yard burst in the first quarter. The Coyote pass defense was not quite what it should have been, as the Buffaloes made 172 yards through the air, including an 83-yard pass play good for the Buffaloes' only touchdown. The score remained 7-6 at halftime. The Coyotes came back to score in the fourth quarter on a run by Mike McBride and marked up another district win, 14-6. Outstanding on defense were Wade King, Howard Morris, Sonny McDougle, All-District tackle Jim McGrath, and Ted Stuart.

Coyotes 14 Gophers 21

The game to determine the district champion was played on a cold, windy night in the Gopher Bowl between Grand Prairie and the Coyotes. The Gophers possessed a fine football team which could run, pass, and play defense with equal competence. Their first score was set up by a 41-yard pass, with quarterback Gary Gilbreath getting the tally on a one-yard sneak. The Coyotes rallied to move 72 yards in 12 plays, and Pat Alexander scored from two yards out. Another pass provided Grand Prairie with a second touchdown and a halftime lead of 13-7. In the third quarter the inspired Gophers again scored after an 80-yard drive. The Coyotes were not quitters, however. They came roaring back to score a spectacular catch of Mike McBride's pass in the end zone by All-District end John Runge. Wichita Falls was driving again when they lost a fumble. Time soon ran out, not only on the clock, but also on the high school football careers of 23 seniors.

Coyote Basketball

The Coyotes of 1963-64, under the coaching of Morriss Mercer, who was voted the outstanding coach in the district, produced a thirteen win and twelve loss record. Because of a lack of game experience, these boys were unable to play to their capabilities at all times; but when they did, they were something to watch. Out of the thirteen wins, seven came with less than a minute to go, and three with less than twenty seconds remaining. Among the outstanding players were all-district Jack Pennington; David Oliver, a junior, who was voted all-district honorable mention, and John Cunningham, who was called on to do a man-sized job and did it well. Surely the Coyotes' finest hour was their upset victory over Richland Hills, a team never before beaten by the Coyotes. Judging from their good record this year, we can expect great things from next year's Coyote team.

Don—
It's been much fun working with you in Choir and Music Theory. I'd like to thank you for sometimes, needing to be so loud at times. It's been a pleasure to be your accompanist. It's been a pleasure to be your accompanist. It's been a pleasure to be your accompanist

Don,

Well, this year has really been great! I don't know what I would have done if I would have never met you! Acapella has been so much fun. You've really kept me busy this year. (Fighting you off in chair, on the Irving train, in Cinics, in S.H., etc.) You're a wonderful person with a personality that can't be forgotten. Best of luck in everything you do. And I have to admit that I'll miss you a lot next year.

Love,

Ted Stuart

Don,

I can't say it's been a great guy in Cinics Class. Old Cinic "Junior Jox"

Love Joann

Don,

I can't say it's been great sitting in S.H. listening to Miss Smith sound off but it's been different. Take it easy at college and mix pleasure with studies regardless of what they say.

Love Cram '64

Don,

Lots of luck in the future,

Don, what can I say? Study like the girls? Don't get drunk?

Well, I can't say any of that. I can't even say that I'll miss you all that much. I'll miss you a little, though.
Anyway, I wish you all the luck in the world and hope you have a

are loads of fun things
